TODAY'S RADIO HIGHLIGHTS

THE ROYAL marriage today between Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten is getting excellent radio coverage here despite the fact the proceedings will begin before the crack of dawn, Eastern Standard Time.

Both WRC-NBC and WTOP-CBS will be taking the 2-hour program at 6 a.m. from American correspondents posted in strategic places between Buckingham Palace and Westminster Abbey. Ed Murrow, who went from CBS vice president to his current commentating position, will be one of the two American representatives in the Abbey.

Mutual crowned a Philadelphia housewife "Queen for a Day" and dispatched her to London to cover the events for the afternoon audience participation show which is heard over WOL.

WBCC, which is always being confused with BBC anyway, will pick up the wedding coverage directly from the British Broadcasting Co., and will probably have more British flavor in its broadcasts than anybody else. WBCC will carry the program from 6:45 a.m. to 8 and rebroadcast parts of it from 1:15 to 2:15 p.m.

Rebroadcasts will also be available on other stations, with WMAL doing a solid half-hour at 7:30 p.m., and WOL another 30 minutes at 9:30 p.m. WTOP will give a 15-minute period to wedding highlights at 2:30 p.m.

On the more serious side, WTOP-CBS will present a half-hour documentary drama, "How Hungry Can You Get?" with an intermission talk by Charles Luckman of the Citizens Food Committee. The program, describing a generation of "wolf children" growing up in Europe, will be broadcast at 10:30 p.m.

Other highlights:

Clark Griffith, owner of the Nats baseball team, is honored on his seventy-eighth birthday. WINX and WINX-FM—6:15, WOL—6:45 and WWDC and WWDC-FM—7:15 p.m.

Ethel Barrymore stars in "Light in the Window, "WTOP—10 p.m.

Eddie Cantor appears on "Family Hour" presentation of "Son of Mine," WOL—10 p.m.

Philip Mosely, professor of international relations at Columbia, discusses Russian foreign policy with Lyman Bryson.
