'Show Business' Really No Cinch

(Editor's Note: While Rocky Clark is on vacation this column is being written by a staff member to keep entertainment world abreast. Today's guest columnist is Johnny Long, bandleader.)

By JOHNNY LONG

While your regular columnist, Rocky Clark, is enjoying a well-deserved vacation I've been asked to substitute and it gives me an opportunity I've looked forward to for some time.

Almost everywhere the band plays people ask me how they can get into show business. They ask for advice. One thing is sure. Before you start make sure you have TALENT. I've put that in capital letters for a good reason.

Merely because you've been told "You have a lovely voice" or "You're pretty enough to be in pictures" is no sign you'll ever get anywhere in the entertainment field. Thousands of pretty girls and handsome men are doing nothing in Hollywood and New York right now. That doesn't mean you shouldn't have faith in yourself.

Must Have Patience

Determination to succeed and patience, in case fame doesn't come right away are two main requisites. Find a teacher who can really develop the talent you have. It is important to find a reputable teacher or school. Your local Chamber of Commerce or Better Business Bureau can help you if in doubt.

It might be a good idea to have some other means of earning available (like stenography, clerical), in case you need something to "tide you over" the inevitable rough spots. Be alert and watch for your opportunities. If you have the talent, looks, ambition and "drive", you'll eventually find you'll gain some measure of success.

Other important things to have are ability and eagerness to learn. Study the techniques and methods of successful people in your field. Don't copy them but develop your own individual style, with your own talents in mind.

Room for New Talent

There's no doubt that New York and Hollywood aren't waiting for you to arrive, but there's also no doubt that there's always room for new and fresh talent. People tire of seeing the same faces and a new face (again, with talent) always has a chance. At this point watch out for unscrupulous agents. Check any unlikely looking offers of employment carefully. Read your contracts equally carefully.

Start off small rather than trying to begin at the top of the ladder. No one ever started off as a star. It was a long, hard climb. Begin modestly (in your own home town if possible), watch for the breaks and meet the right people.

Always be courteous, gracious and presentable. Always do your best. You can never tell when someone important will be in the audience. A big producer might be there the one night you decide to let down "just a little," and you'll lose the opportunity you might have waited for many years.

And now if you're ready to start off on a show business career remember it will be hard work, heartbreaks and very little of the glamour you now think it is. But if you still want to go ahead the best of luck to you!

REGISTRARS END PRIMARY LIST JOB

The 1948 party primary lists were closed to additional names today and publication is expected in approximately two weeks.

A final enrollment session when voters could add, delete or transfer their names took place yesterday in the registrars of voters offices from noon to 9 p.m. An exceptionally light final enrollment was reported.

Since last August about 75 names have been added to the Republican list, 25 to the Democratic list and between 15 and 20 to the Socialist list, according to the registrars.

Seven names were transferred from the Democratic rolls to the Republican and a total of six was deleted from all three party lists, it was announced.

No Republicans or Socialists were involved in a party switch, the registrars disclosed.

They described enrollment yesterday and during the past year as "exceptionally light."

Persons who have already taken the voter's oath and failed to place their names on the lists cannot participate in the 1948 primary elections, the registrars pointed out.

Those who become vote age after yesterday however, may cast primary ballots by obtaining a special certificate, he added.

Starting today voters may register for the 1949 primaries.

LONG-TERMER ASKS TO LEAVE PRISON

The writ of habeas corpus petition filed Thursday by Robert Lee Sanders 25, formerly of 26 Thomas street, who is serving an 18 to 21 year term in state's prison for robbery with violence, will be referred to Judge Edward J. Quinlan during Superior court chambers hearings next week, it was indicated today.

Sanders, who took $10,000 from two W. T. Grant company employes in a daring daylight holdup May 12 1947, claims he was convicted upon unlawful grounds and without equitable rights at an impartial trial. He was found guilty by a Superior court jury June 17 1947, and sentenced by Judge Howard W. Alcorn.

Public Defender Charles R. Covert, who represented Sanders at the trial, said today that the petitioner had written to him concerning his application for a new hearing but had not revealed to details of the grounds on which he bases his plea. Mr. Covert said he does not intend to represent Sanders unless ordered to do so by the state.

If a hearing is ordered in the case it may take place in the state's prison in Wethersfield. Superior court received the petition directly from Sanders.

LIGHTNING HITS ROOF

The home of T. Albert Boudinot 317 Riverside drive, Fairfield, was struck by lightning during a brief thunderstorm yesterday which split several rafters in the roof of the house. Center Southport and Tunxis Hill fire companies responded to the scene although there was no fire.

JAIL OR WORK

NORWALK, July 31—Thomas Hickson 27 of 53 Fulton street, Bridgeport, was found guilty of theft of a pair of shoes and sentenced to 60 days in jail by Judge Arnold R. Fasano in City court yesterday. Judge Fasano suspended the sentence however, on condition that the youth get a job within 24 hours.

ROBERT LYHNE HURT

Robert Lyhne, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Lyhne, of 66 Henry street, Fairfield, received a possible fracture of the left wrist in a fall yesterday at 6:30 p.m. at the Sturges Park playground in Fairfield. After treatment by a private physician he was taken to Bridgeport hospital by Patrolman Edwin Lewis.

ANNA B. CHALMERS DIES BY HANGING

Bridgeport Woman's Aunt Found Dead In Darien Home

DARIEN, July 31—The body of Mrs. Anna B. Chambers, of Brookside drive, was found hanging by a clothesline from a second floor banister post in her home by a neighbor about 2 p.m. yesterday. Dr. Ralph W. Crane, medical examiner, said death occurred sometime Wednesday night and returned a verdict of suicide.

Police said the body was discovered by Gomer B. Davies, who lived next door, when he went to the Chalmers home after noticing accumulation of two milk deliveries on the porch. When he got no answer at the door he peered through the window and saw the body according to police.

Lieut. Frank Standing said Mrs. Chalmers aunt of Mrs. Fred Simmons of Bridgeport would have been 68 years old yesterday. She was reported to have been despondent the last several weeks.

The body was removed to the Edward Lawrence funeral home and police notified Mrs. Simmons, only known survivor.

INSPECTOR HEARS AUTOISTS' PLEAS

Two men who were involved in fatal auto accidents last month had their driving rights restored when they appeared yesterday before Inspector Rufus C. Grant, of the State Motor Vehicles department, at a hearing in the county court house. They are Nicholas F. Vitale 1236 Noble avenue, and Daniel H. Kowalski 107 Taft avenue.

Warnings for accumulated records were issued to Morton N. Woodward 142 Lee avenue, John Tokacs Fairfield, John B. Redmond Stepney, Herbert A. Polton, 63 Redding place, Robert E. Morris Stepney, Thomas McMellon, Jr., 61 Aldine avenue and Walter R. Johnson 414 Newfield avenue.

James E. King Stratford also was warned about his record and was ordered to file a certificate of insurance within 10 days.

Anthony Provenzano 300 Gregory street, William J. Nangle 1075 Lincoln avenue and Zoltan E. Ande Fairfield, were permitted to contact their applications for public service licenses.

Financial responsibility clauses were removed in the cases of Paul A. Kubic Stratford, William J. Eager 38 Buckingham avenue, Joseph Nagy Southport and John Ciarmiello Fairfield.

Other cases were disposed of as follows:

Thomas C. May Yellow Mill Village, rules of road, reinstated. Frank Rosen 1107 Wood avenue, reckless driving, insurance required. Paul F. Hilliard Success Park, operating without permission, insurance required. Edward J. Donlack 1455 Sherman street, unregistered car, permitted to retain license. Leslie D. Perkins Yellow Mill Village, operating without permission, reinstated. James Pidikiti 683 Black Rock turnpike, violation not conviction, obtaining license through misrepresentation, reinstated. Edward J. Mize, Stratford, operating under the influence of liquor and without license, insurance required. Louis A. DeMasi 85 Goodsell street, warned regarding record and financial case closed. Henry Stratton Stratford, rules of the road, reinstated. and Henry W. Anthony Norwalk, violation, not conviction, operating under the influence, reinstated.

DR. J. A. MILLER DIES

EAST LYME, July 31—(AP) Dr. James Alexander Miller 71, of New York city, died at his summer home here Friday.

Widely known as a specialist in tuberculosis and thoracic diseases Dr. Miller had practiced medicine in New York since 1899. He had been in failing health for three months.

He leaves his widow the former Marion Hall whom he married June 4, 1902, two daughters Mrs. Richard S. Meredith of New York city and Mrs. Daniel A. Lindley of Baltimore, five brothers, Gardiner H. Lucius H., and Kenneth of New York, Emory of Denver, Colo. and Hugh of California, a sister Mrs. Harvey Davis of New York and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will take place in New York Monday.

Price of Cigarettes to Rise Monday

Effective Monday a pack of cigarettes probably will cost 21 cents if you buy it at your neighborhood store and either 21 or 22 cents if you purchase it from a vending machine.

Not only will the cigarette smoker be forced to pay at least a penny more for his favorite brand but dealers will be charged an increase of eight cents per carton (from $1.67 to $1.75 per carton delivered). Wholesalers are not exempt from the increased cost of tobacco for they will have to pay an average increase of 10 cents per thousand.

A spokesman for the Collin Tobacco company, which maintains a large number of cigarette vending machines here said that generally it will cost one cent a pack more for a purchase from a vending machine than from over the counter. The exact charge has not been determined as yet he said.

Most of the vending machines in the area are relatively new and are equipped so that minor adjustments will permit them to take a nickel, two dimes and a nickel or five nickels he said. The 3 or 4 cents in change will be inserted in the package.

An official of the Bridgeport Tobacco company said today that telegrams announcing new price increases effective today had been received from most large tobacco companies. The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company at Winston-Salem, N. C. set its new price on Camels at $7.75 a thousand and the American Tobacco company, makers of Lucky Strikes at $7.75 a thousand. The Liggett and Myers Tobacco company, makers of Chesterfields, announced a similar figure but the P. Lorillard and company makers of Old Gold said no decision has been reached.

Most of the large retailers here said they expected to advance the price one cent while some retailers and the independent stores say they have made no decision as yet. Several of the chain stores here have received no word yet from their main offices regarding any changes.
