Santa Ana Folk Plan Organization Meet Tomorrow

A service of organization of the United Lutheran Church of Santa Ana will be conducted tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the temporary quarters, the Woman's Club auditorium, Sixth and Baker Sts., Rev. Raymond L. Nickel, mission pastor, has announced.

Guest speaker will be Dr. James Prince Beasom of Glendale, president of the Synod of California, United Lutheran Church in America. Included in the service will be the formal reception of members, confirmation service and baptism of adults.

Plans for the organization of another Lutheran parish in Santa Ana started Nov. 26, 1950, when 20 persons met in the home of Pastor Nickel, 2071 S. Broadway, and voted to form a temporary council to obtain temporary quarters for services. First worship service was Dec. 17, 1950, in the Woman's Club, with 61 persons attending. The initial Sunday School class met Jan. 14, 1951. Attendance for both Sunday School and worship service showed such increase that the temporary council voted April 13 that the congregation be organized officially May 20 and seek immediate affiliation with the Synod of California, ULCA. Since last November, 85 adults have signed applications for charter membership in the mission and will form the class to be received into full membership tomorrow morning.

The temporary council consists of Fred C. Wahl, property; Carl Freeberg, secretary; Carl Gillette, treasurer; Gale Fleischman, education; Stanley Rodgers and Dr. Clarence Sterfling, ushers; Charles Buchanan, chancel furnishings; Harlan Anderson, music, and C. W. Sundstrom, press.

Sunday School officers are: Fleischman, superintendent; Priscilla Sundstrom, nursery superintendent; Lucille M. Clawson, secretary-treasurer; Virginia E. Way, finance; Alice Inman, Betty Lou Nickel, Louise Anderson, Jackie Brooks, Anna O'Brien and Pastor Nickel, teachers.

The committee named to investigation obtaining of property for a church site in south Santa Ana, includes Messrs. Paul Anderson, Buchanan, Lynn Elward, Ben Fornay and Wahl.

The pastor plans to draw parallels between the latest world developments and definite statements in the Scriptures.
