

BAGDAD STORY ON RADIO TODAY

Program Also Brings Visit to Mississippi

Jamboreadors Will Hold Leap-Year Frolic

Tax Expert Will Discuss Income Returns

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m.

Three High Lights in One: Galen Welch, United States Collector of Internal Revenue.

John Scott of The Times Drama Department.

Paul Lowry, Sports Editor of The Times.

World-wide news, 7 a.m., 12:30, 5:15 and 10 p.m.

A chance to slip through the mist of the ages to olden Bagdad. to visit the plantations bordering the Mississippi, a concert with Richard Crooks as singing host and the Blue Monday Jamboreadors tear the sentiments of Leap Year into shreds. That is a bit of radio today.

That great hero of the Arabian Nights Tales, Haroun-Al-Raschid, one-time Caliph of Bagdad, will be brought to life in the History Dramatization period of the American School of the Air. (KHJ at 11:30 a.m.) This program, prepared especially for the children of the upper grades and high schools, will appeal equally to grown-ups, for the tales of the fabulous deeds of this Haroun, "the Upright," contemporary of Charlemagne, have come down through a thousand years still redolent with glamor and romance.

Another national network program tonight over KFI at 6:30 invites "you all" down South to Mississippi. The Rosamond Johnson Choir, and Rollin Smith, Negro baritone, will include the best of southern music and song.

Speaking for themselves, KFRC through KHJ at 8 tonight has this to say: "Get your boy friend in the parlor tonight, girls, turn the lights down low and set the radio dial on KHJ. There will be lots of soft, romantic music to help get the lads in the right mood for a proposal; Blue Monday Jamboree comedy, too. But best of all, the clinching argument in a thrill presentation by the Deep Dramatic Stock Company of Leap Year Lena, Mlle. Fifi will be on hand to create more trouble for Axel."

THE TIMES FORUM

It being close to the deadline on income-tax returns. The Times Forum will present over KHJ at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon the man to whom you must do your explaining. Galen Welch, United States Collector of Internal Revenue, who will tell you a few facts about the details of the tax, how to make up a return, what you may omit and what you must schedule. Whether this will make it any easier for you or not, at least you will be the wiser if you listen in. Also, John Scott of The Times drama department will talk on the "extra" problems: Paul Lowry of the sports department will review the coming week in that field of enjoyment, that you may know where to go and what to do or see this beautiful summer weather.
