Coach "Stub" Allison has put together one of the strongest football teams in a decade. A is for the first varsity, B for the second, and C for the third.

The team that meets California in the Rose Bowl will see all three of them, and it is not going to have an easy time figuring out which is the toughest. I saw the California first, second, and third teams in action Saturday against Oregon, and the tip-off on what a healthy baby that C group is, is that it more than held its own with good Oregon varsity that was good enough a week earlier to trounce Washington State.

The C varsity played the final quarter and yielded nothing. The B varsity was Coach Allison's choice for duty in the preceding period, and all it could do was take the ball on its own 20-yard line and have 30 yards up the field for a touchdown. In this march the second stringers uncovered a pair of brilliant backs in Ingram and Anderson, and a line that dived the old Oregon forward wall.

This brings us, in backward fashion, to the California varsity—the group that started the ball game and elaborated the opposition during the first half.

Working on a field that was ankle deep in slime—the Multnomah gridiron was a sand and lumber surface, and had been subjected to a two-day rain—the Golden Bears hammered across three touchdowns, and missed another by a yard.

This California first team, on Saturday, was far and away the most impressive eleven I have seen all year. It didn't have a flaw, and it went about the business of winning the ball game with the poise of the old Rockne teams. The boys paid no attention to the miserable footing. Surely and calmly they tore Oregon apart and punched touchdowns through the holes.

There isn't a weak spot on the line from Deitman at left end to Schwartz at the right wing. And in Horwig at center California has a genuine Bear. The backfield, on Saturday at least, was tremendously impressive. Vic Botari took the field hauled as the star ball carrier, and he played like one, yet he was not quite as efficient as one Sam Chapman, Chapman, a rascally fellow, is a power runner with a fine burst of speed, and he can pass and kick with the best.

Another backfielder is Meek, an uncomprehending lad who throws blocks all afternoon, and throws 'em right.

There will be no rest in the Rose Bowl this year. That is, if California in the Pacific representative, and the Bears appear to be a cinch to get the bid. To beat them the eastern team will have to master a new set of ABC's—a set that averages 188 in weight, and is plenty tough.

McDonald Scores for Ohio State

A homecoming crowd of 45,000 football fans at Ohio stadium, Columbus, Ohio, witnessed the defeat of the Illinois team by Ohio State, 19-0. Impressive ceremonies were part of the program before start of game. This action photo shows Jim McDonald, Ohio State captain, No. 8, dodging Illinois tackler on his way for a touchdown in the first quarter after he caught pass from Wasylik.

Roundy Says: Active Trading Promised at December Meetings

By JACK CUDDY
Copyright 1937 by United Press
NEW YORK, N. Y. — (U.P.) — David Harum of baseball firm for the big bartering salutes at Milwaukee and Chicago.

Estimates indicate that total attendance in the National and American leagues for 1937 increased approximately one million persons, or more than 11 per cent over '36. The estimated figures are 9,600,000 for this season and 8,600,000 for last.

It is heartening to note that the '37 total approaches the all-time high of more than 10,000,000 registered in '30.

Minor league attendances probably increased somewhat in proportion.

Since the better clubs in any league invariably draw the larger crowds, this robust return of baseball prosperity is serving as a powerful stimulant for improvement.

During the next two weeks club officials in all sections will be concentrating on their player problems—trying to figure out deals that will strengthen their teams and make them greater turnstile attractions.

Then, ready to do business, managers and officials will swear to the minor league meetings at Milwaukee, Dec. 1-3, and to the major circuit conclaves at Chicago, Dec. 13-16.

Street Mags Fleet Browns
Major league brass has should be quite active at both gatherings. An unusual number of transactions should occur as they try to out-smart each other in whispered conference about hotel lobbies, corridors and ante-rooms in the annual "battles of fallen arches." Three major clubs in particular have displayed dissatisfaction with their teams' performances by firing the managers. I refer to the Reds, Indians and Browns.

The Browns are expected to announce their new pilot before Dec. 1, so that he can participate in the Milwaukee and Chicago dickering.

Recalling to you the Block-manager for the J. I. Case Company by name R. L. Jones who talked to you on Monday, October 25th, regarding the Central Wisconsin implement dealers' association convention to be held in the University Field House on November 16, 17 and 18th one day of which will be Farmers' Day with free admission.

For some years past this convention has been held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and it is the hope that the convention will be an annual event in Madison. Through your widely read column you can greatly assist this hope in becoming a reality, by casual mention of the convention as many times as you find possible between now and the date of the convention. The major, as well as a number of minor manufacturers of farm machinery and accessories thereto will have a complete display at the field house to show everyone present the marvelous advancement accomplished by the builders of farm machinery. If I have failed in giving you sufficient details please phone F. 885-R and I will come in to see you.

Thanks in advance for your cooperation Roundy, and if you will find time to drop in on our convention I shall be glad to talk motorized lawnmower to you.

Very truly,
R. L. Jones.

Now don't spoil the affair Jones by having a motorized lawnmower. Let the boys push them and reduce. You'll be having a radio on them next.
