'Beer Barrel Polka" To Be Used For Demonstration; Tommy Dorsey Will Give Minstrel

Alec Templeton's impression of the "Beer Barrel Polka, as it would have been played in the 17th century will be the highlight of the Templeton program Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. over WEAF. The British planist will also play "Mary Had A Little Lamb" as sung by a Cuban rhumba dancer, a German Leidersinger, and a hillbilly. His own composition, dedicated to the Billy Mills band, and titled "Trumpet Time," will also be featured.

Other portions of the half hour Fibber McGee summer replacement program include "Stairway to the Stars," sung by Edna O'Dell and a medley of DeSilva, Brown and Henderson tunes played by Mills orchestra. The weekly "Swing-phony" will be "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans.'

Tommy Dorsey, trombone maestro who conducts his orchestra every Wednesday night, will take part in the third minstrel show produced by the "If I Had The Chance" program on Tuesday. The Dorsey guest spot will be broadcast over WJZ from 9 to 9:30 p. m.

Tommy's particular partner in the end-man repartee of the evening will be Ben Lyon, movie actor. Others who will participate in actress Bebe Daniels; Peter Arno, famous Esquire magazine cartoonist; Graham McNamee, dean of sports announcers; George Jessel, comedian; Ham Fisher, author and artist of the comic strip feature, "Joe Palooka"; and Frank Norris, an editor of Time magazine. # Two First Run Hits To Open On Sigma Screen Wednesday

'Big Town Czar" And "They Made Her A Spy" Are Attractions; Mickey Rooney In Ohio Feature

"Big Town Czar", the story of a ruthless ruler of the sinister empire behind the city's bright lights, will open Wednesday at the Sigma theatre. The picture stars Barton MacLane, who is supported by Tom Brown and Eve Arden, and brings to the screen Ed Sullivan, newspaperman, author of the story. Also appearing at the Sigma will be "They Made Her a Spy", a timely story of Uncle Sam's stern answer to espionage, with multiple thrills, and a capable cast of players Kink, Jack LaRue, Frank Jenks, headed by Sally Eilers and Jerry Marlowe and Cordon Jones have leading roles.

Tuesday will be the final show-ing for the "Dead End Kids" latest vehicle, "Hell's Kitchen", at the

"Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever," the seventh of the Hardy family series, is the current attraction at the Ohio theatre. The "Hardy" family, Lewis Stone, Mickey Rooney, Cecilia Parker, and Fay Holden, are assisted by Ann Rutherford, Mickey's "sweetheart," and Terry Kilburn, late of "Good bye, Mr. Chips."

Sidney Toler, the renowned Charlie Chan, runs up against a fascinating killer in his latest mystery, "Charlie Chan in Reno", now at the Quilna. He is ably assisted by Slim Summerville, Ricardo Cortez, and Phyllis Brooks, who play the leading roles. Also at the Quilna is the story of an advertising clerk who becomes involved in a murder case. Stuart Erwin and Gloria Stuart are cast in the husband-wife roles of this entertaining comedy, "It Could Happen to You." The Lyric is offering "The Duke of West Point", an inside story of West Point life with Louise Hayward, Tom Brown, and Richard Carlson playing leading roles. Also on the screen will be "Sunset Trailer", a story of the west. Two "hits" of the year are now showing at the State. They are The Ice Follies of 1939" starring Joan Crawford, Jimmie Stewart, and Lew Ayres, and "Wuthering Heights" starring Merle Oberon and David Niven.

The conflict between MacLane and Brown, brothers who become partners in crime and targets for rival mobsters, highlights the action of the fast-moving film.

Arthur Lubin directed, with Ken Goldsmith as associate producer. Edmund L. Hartman adapted Sullivan's story to the screen. A girl's revenge for the murder of her brother and its sensational affect on an instrumental espionage plot against the United States, form the basis of "They Made Her Spy," featuring Sally Eilers and Allan Lane starting Wednesday at the Sigma theatre.

With its background laid in official Washington the unique story when he first played the role in presents Miss Eilers as the sister of an army licutenant. When the latter is killed during his demonstration of a new field gun, the militay intelligence department uncovers foreign sabotage behind the "accident." Determined to avenge her brother's death and aid her country in exposing the spy ring, the Mrs. H. J. Sunderland and sons young lady manages to enter the intelligence service as a volunteer operative, fully aware that her life will be in constant danger Her harrowing experiences after she contrives to become an actual rember of the espionage ring and her success in her perilous mission make this screen offering a powerful, dramatic document with a message of interest to the public.

Allan Lane is cast opposite the actress and his connection with the secret activities of the spy group leads to a warm romance between the two. Others in the cast of this picture include Fritz Leiber, Frank M. Thomas, Theodore Von Eltz and Larry Blake. Jack Hively directed.

LAFITTE'S OF OLD YIELDS FLOWING GOLD

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1 --(UP)-The brothers Lafitte paddled their pirogues over more treasure than they ever dreamed of pirating.

Eight miles from the salt marshes and bayous where the swashbuckling gang ruled, the Texas company has drilled 30 off wells. All have been producers. Edward M. Comisky, president of the Jefferson Parish school board and owner of the land, has promised every school child in his parish free lunches if the 31st well is brought in.

The Lafitte No., 1 went down in 1935. The endless mare of marshes and bayous, which baffled what law there was in New Orleans when the Lafittes were in their prime, has been no handicap to drillers. The Texas company patented the drilling barge, which is floated out to location, sunk and the well drilled thru it. Some of the wells were drilled
