Trumps would have been cold.
South was blamable for the catastrophe. His 4-No Trumps was answered by North with the Blackwood response of 5-Diamonds to show one ace. South then wanted to sign off at 5-No Trumps, but couldn't do it because that would be a king-asker working the side into small slam.

pushing the side into small slam.

He was properly afraid of de-fensive ruffs because East's spade call portended shortness for West in that suit, and West's heart bid indicated shortness for East

there.
Looking forward more, South might have bid 2-No Trumps on his first turn instead of doubling, or after North's double of the 2-Hearts he might have tried 5-No

Trumps, which North would have taken to small slam.-By either of these methods, he would have hit the winning contract of small slam in No Trumps.
