Bataan Rescue Brings Joy To Ohio Families

(B) The Associated Press) Thirteen Ohio families today shared long-anticipated happiness. Their loved ones were among the 513 men freed from a Jap prison camp on Luzon by daring American rangers.

Now they are awaiting personal word from sons and brothers who participated in the courageous stand at Bataan and Corregidor. Their big hope is that the liberated men will get furloughs.

The 13 Ohioans freed were Pic. Clarence W. Bower of Mt Sterling, Sgt. Edward Kippen of Cleveland, Pvt Peter Paul Pirnat of Cleve-land, Pvt. William J. Lash of Willoughby, Pfc Herbert Herzog of Akron: Sgt. Charles R Quinn of Dayton: Sgt. Joseph T Knapp of Fairport Harbor; Hugh Keavs of Cleveland Heights; Pfc. John Dugan of Springfield; Pvt Arthur L. Holshorst of Mt. Washington. Cincinnati, Pfc. George V Parrott of Bryan; Lt. Ambrose J Wangler of Groveport, and GM 3-c George Tarkanish of Youngstown.

Most of the relatives were confident MacArthur's troops ultimately would free the Yank prisoners, but the suddenness of the rescue surprised them.

Dr Thomas Wanger of Columbus was so surprised to hear that his brother, Lt. Ambrose, was safe that he could say only: "Thank God" At Cleveland, Pvt Pirant's sister, Angeline, declared: "I could tor, hung out the sign, "Salaryjump and shout for joy, not for my meals-and a daily package of sake but for the sake of my broth- cigarets." er and the rest of the boys liber-

Mrs Edna Lash of Willoughby, mother of Pvt Lash, said "the greatest relief is knowing that he still is alive"

Asbestos is one of the oldest of modern manufactured products According to historians, Charlemagne once used aspestos to end a war The old fighter sat at a parley table with his enemy 814 denly he swept the tablecloth away and plunged it into a fire When it did not burn, his astonished foe called off the war.
