

Brace Of Horror Films Billed On Lyric Screen

Two pictures which are enough to shock even the strongest willed persons are now showing at the Lyric theatre. "The Soul of a Monster" and "Cry of the Werewolf" are two films which practically are guaranteed to keep one in a state of suspense and horror.

Weird and supernatural films always have been favorites of the public, if boxoffice returns are any criterion.

Hunt Stromberg's "Guest in the House" currently showing at the Ohio theatre has a program of the most extensive and careful preparation ever lavished on one of his pictures.

Based on a daring and sensational Broadway stage play, the film combines all the virtues of careful writing, careful production analysis, and a careful eye trained on the wants of the nation's theatre audiences.

Rosemary Lane, for the first time in her career on the screen, will be a blonde. What's more she intends to stay that way from here on in. Rosemary's newly acquired blonde tresses currently are to be seen in the new western musical "Sing Me a Song of Texas" at the Quilna theatre.

There have been a lot of mix-ups in history but none quite so comical as the incident which occurs in "Practically Yours," starring Fred MacMurray and Claudette Colbert now at the Sigma theatre. When a man says he would rather go for a walk with his dog than a beautiful girl, something is drastically wrong.

Everyone always knew that Bob Hope was one of the top comedians of the screen and radio but a picture which proves it is "Princess and the Pirate" playing at the State theatre. Hope always is ready for some fun and he finds this and many other exciting adventures in this film.

The Chicago Field Museum contains a petrified log of redwood from Alberta, Canada, which is said to be 100,000,000 years old.

America's Most Famous Pin-Up Girl Tells Story

The most famous pin-up girl in America celebrates her 59th birthday this year, and Cavalcade of America brings her story to radio listeners of WFAA Monday, in a radio play "Grandpa and the Statue" starring Charles Laughton. Who is this glamour gal? Why, the Statue of Liberty, of course.

Builders of beachbustlers and Marine Corps Leathernecks who have fought the enemy in the amphibian tractors, plowing thru sea and surf onto invasion beaches, will be interviewed by Parks Johnson and Warren Hull on Vox Box Monday, at 7 p. m. over WABC from Borg-Warner's Ingersoll Steel and Disk Division war plant, in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Dolly Dawn, singing star of the Bob Hawk comedy quiz, "Thanks to the Yanks," offers the new favorite, "Candy," Monday at 6:30 p. m. over Station WABC. Hawk brings jokes and smokes for the Army, in the quiz, sending thousands of free cigarettes to men at U. S. Army hospitals at Richmond, Va., and Galesburg, Ill. Peter Van Steeden conducts the program's music.

"CLEAN LIFE LEAGUE" LECTURES SCHEDULED
C. E. Dowdell, head of the "Clean Life League" of Ohio will give an illustrated lecture on crime, liquor and marijuana at Gomer and Elda high schools on Tuesday.

It will be in Gomer at 9 a. m. and at Elda at 2 p. m. The meetings are being sponsored by the Elda and Gomer WCTU.

Tungsten is not found alone in its natural state, but associated with iron and manganese.
