If you're looking for something to take your mind away from pressing problems of the day, then you'll not want to miss the film at the Ohio theatre. Starring Joan Fontaine, the picture "The Affairs of Susan" has some startling happenings, which will have you laughing right out of your seat.

At the Quilna theatre, "Crime Doctor's Courage" holds the limelight. The film, which has Warner Baxter as the famous Dr. Ordway of radio fame, increases in suspense starting with strange happenings which become very much pronounced thruout.

Very few people have any conception of what it might be like to try to do tedious surgical work under the strain of fear. But that is exactly the case in "China Sky." now showing at the Sigma theatre. The film stars Randolph Scott, Ruth Warrick and Ellen Drew. The same old triangle is predominant but with a new twist.

Your tastes in music will be completely taken care of by the picture "Music For Millions" which will open Sunday at the State theatre starring Margaret O'Brien, June Allyson, Jose Iturbi, Jimmy Durante and Marsha Hunt. It is a lovable story with the same kind

Two pictures which undoubtedly will prove of interest to fans of western films is the billing to be shown on the marquee of the Lyric theatre. That is "Sundown Jim" and "Moon Over Las Vegas." Both films will be feature attractions

AUCTIONEER SELLS DOLLS TO BEAT CEILING PRICES

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July (UP)-Auctioneering is one thing, but nuctioneering with delia in addition is something else entirely, according to the OPA. When Perry Alverson, 57-yearold farmer and auctioneer, was indicted in federal court here for violating ceiling price regulations, ed too much for a rerigerator, a washing machine or a stove. Instead, the government charged Alverson with forcing his would-be buyers to bid for a doll first. The doll-winner, paying in one case as much as $110, then was permitted to purchase the desired article at ceiling price.
