

Comedy in Store for Fans At Lima Theatres Saturday

Touched with enough comedy to suit the fans who like some of it in their movie fare, the films for this week-end assure showgoers of entertainment of the upper brackets.

Reaching a keynote of top-notch entertainment is the film at the Sigma entitled "So Goes My Love" with Myrna Loy and Don Ameche. The film reaches all kinds of hilarious stages with just the right amount of drama to make it good.

The Ohio's film, "To Each His Own" brings Olivia DeHavilland to the screen again in another dramatic portrayal. With new star, John Lund, Miss DeHavilland turns in a performance marking another step in the now-great screen ladder.

"It shouldn't Happen to a Dog"—and that's what you'll believe after seeing the Quilna film of the same name now showing. With Allyn Joslyn and Carol Landis in the leading roles the film tells of an altogether too educated Doberman Pinscher, newshound and lady cop all on the same trail.

Opening at the State theatre Sunday will be "Badman's Territory" and "Partners in Time." Currently playing at the theatre is "Janie Gets Married" with Joan Leslie and Robert Hutton; "Hawaii Calls" as the co-feature. "Dakota," with John Wayne and Vera Hruba Ralston, will bow out at the Lyric theatre Saturday as "I Love a Bandleader" comes in to replace it Saturday midnight. Sharing the billing to start then will be "Border Bandits."

"City of Silent Men" and "Bar 20 Rides Again" are the two films scheduled to open at the Allen theatre Sunday. Currently showing is "Young Blood" with Bob Steele and "West of Texas."

"Border Patrol" and "Hoosier Holiday" will open at the Lima Drive-In theatre Sunday while "Too Young to Know" with Joan Leslie and Robert Hutton open at the Gloria Drive-In theatre.

The first flight made by the Wright brothers lasted 12 seconds.

Looking At HOLLYWOOD

with ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD, July 27—(NEA)—Kay Kyser insisted on demonstrating his baby-feeding technique.

He made a grab for three-week-old Kimberly Ann Kyser and said to the nurse, "Let me have her."

"What for?" asked the nurse, neatly side-stepping him, with Kimberly Ann in one hand and a bottle in the other.

"I'm going to feed her," said the Ole Professor, "like I always do."

"Why, Mr. Kyser," said the nurse, "you've never fed her before. Stop showing off."

Kay blushed, but he made good. The nurse let him have Kimberly Ann, and he fed her a couple of swallows. He even burped her.

But he was mighty awkward about it all, and the nurse wasn't happy until Kimberly Ann was back in her arms and Kay was out of the nursery.

Kay's Home Is Really Up
We wanted to give you an inside report on Hollywood's newest parents—Kay and his pretty wife, Georgia Carroll—so we went up to their house in the hills back of the Beverly Hills Hotel.

"Up," tho, is an understatement. The house is so far up in the hills we wished we had brought along an oxygen tank and a parachute.

The Kyser home—it was Georgia's quarters before she married Kay—is on one of the steepest hills in all of Beverly Hills. Automobiles of Kay's guests frequently slip their brakes and go merrily out of sight down the mountain-side, never to be seen again.

We had never seen the place when Georgia was living there alone (darn it), but it was obvious that some changes had been made. They've added a nursery and built a maid's room over the garage. Kay did some of the work himself. In fact, he was painting when we arrived.

And he was, we can report, the best-dressed house-painter in the United States, if not in the entire world. He was wearing a $85 sport coat, splattered with yellow, green, and blue paint.

Is She Or Is She Not?
We asked Georgia if she was going back to work now.

"No," she said, quick-like. Kay's mouth popped open.

"What do you mean?" he said. "Of course she's going back to work." She has to pay for that nursery.

We asked Kay if he was going to make another movie.

"Not if I can help it," he said. Georgia said it was strange, but she had seen only one of Kay's pictures, "Around the World."

"And she only saw that," Kay laughed, "because SHE was in it."

Kay is jangling again with his radio sponsor, the fabulous George Washington Hill, over terms of a new contract.

After spending thousands of dollars on what he thought was arthritis in his feet, Kay finally found a simple remedy while entertaining in the South Pacific—big, heavy GI shoes.

"I didn't have arthritis at all," he said. "After 15 years of standing in front of my band, my feet were just wearing out. Now I wear heavy GI shoes with tuxedo or sport clothes—and I feel great."

SON OF MIDWESTERN MUNITIONS MAKER—Capt. Joseph H. Garsson, son of a midwestern munitions maker under congressional investigation, holds nose of a shell in his office at Batavia, Ill. The War Dept. said at Washington, D. C., that Rep. Andrew May (D-Ky) twice intervened with General Eisenhower during court martial of Captain Garsson in Europe. (AP Wirephoto).

BODIES OF VICTIMS AT FUNERAL HOME—(Croner W. T. Brown places a sheet over the body of one of four Negroes killed by an armed mob near Monroe, Ga. The two men and two women were seized while riding with Loy Harrison, a white farmer, who was talking them to his farm. The farmer was held at gun point while the four Negroes were taken into some bushes and shot. The first lynching in the nation in nearly a year. (AP Wirephoto).

Networks Will Broadcast Paris Peace Parley Opening

Next on the overseas agenda of the networks is the peace conference which opens in Paris on Monday. The broadcasting is to be mostly in regular commentary periods, with only here and there a special program.

As preliminaries, three networks have announced Sunday features, the MBS reviewing stand to discuss the assembly and the NBC national half-hour to dramatic events leading up to the conference for their regular broadcasts, while CBS lists a special from Paris at night.

A host of fine thoroughbreds will match strides over the mile and one-sixteenth distance for the $10,000-added prize money as MBS brings its listeners a description of the Campfire, feature race of the Saratoga turf schedule, to be broadcast from the Jamaica (NY) race track Saturday at 3 p. m.

Dorothy Staiger, soprano, and George Tozzi, baritone, as soloists, will feature a medley of selections from "Memories of Tchaikovsky," as a highlight of the summer concert series of "The Chicago Theatre of the Air" to be heard Saturday at 9 p. m. over MBS.

JAN Struther, distinguished author of "Mrs. Miniver," "Glass Blower" and the recently published "Pocket Full of Pebbles," will join the panel of regulars on "Twenty Questions" series Saturday at 7 p. m. over MBS.

It took 32,000,000 rabbit skins to make 3,000,000 of those big khaki felt hats the Australian Army wore in World War II.
