

Notes from Bill Doudna

MURIEL LEWIS F. J. McCONNELL
MUSIC FOR TODAY: Two soloists will appear with the 40-piece Madison Musicians assn. band in its concert at 3 p. m. today in Vilas park.

They are Naomi Bersch, Sheboygan soprano, and Larry Borenstein, Madison saxophonist.

Ernest Stanke, director of instrumental music at Madison West high school, will be the conductor.

This is the sixth of a series of seven concerts supported by the recording and transcription fund of the AFL American Federation of Musicians.

The program:
Band: "Bravado," Curzon; "Sequoia," LaGassey; "Brazil," Barroso; "Beguine," Gould.

Miss Bersch: "Il Bacio," Arditi; "My Hero," Strauss.
Band: "The Great Gates of Kiev," Moussorgsky; "Ciribiribin," Pestalozzi-Alford; "Salute to the Chief," Akey; selections from "The Desert Song," Romberg; "Song of the Bayou," Bloom.

Borenstein: "Carnival of Venice," Staiger.
Band: "Turkey in the Straw," Denmark; "A Kiss in the Dark," Herbert; "March for Americans," Grofe.

NEW PLAYS: Three new plays based on early-Wisconsin themes will be presented Thursday night, Aug. 28, in the Wisconsin Union theater as part of the second annual Wisconsin Idea Theater conference. The productions will be open to the public at a small charge. Tickets will go on sale at noon Monday, Aug. 25, in the theater boxoffice.

After the plays, Director Frederic J. McConnell of the Cleveland, O., Playhouse, will lead a discussion of the works. The audience will be asked to join the authors and drama authorities attending the conference in talking over the productions.

The plays will be "Reaching for the Moon," a sentimental comedy by Mrs. Emily Sprague Wurl, Milwaukee; "A City for Joseetta," historical romance about Milwaukee's first mayor, Solomon Juneau, by Margaret Paulus, Milwaukee, and "Witches Brood," a folk tragedy by Daniel Bridges Miller, University of Wisconsin student.

The plays will be enacted, respectively, by the Spotlight players, Milwaukee; the Wisconsin Idea theater, Madison, and the Stoughton Little theater.

ART ON DISPLAY: Selections from the eighth annual exhibition of the Serigraph galleries, New York City, have gone on display at the Wisconsin Union theater gallery. The show illustrates the relatively new adoption of the silk screen process for fine art work. Until 1939, it had been used almost exclusively for posters, such as those made by Mrs. Joyce Kosobud in the Memorial Union workshop. The show will end Sept. 15.

ON THE AIR: Actors appearing in "Footsteps" on WHA and WLS this week have been instructed to wear shoes with leather heels. This is because the experimental drama by Mark Heffernan concerns the importance of sound in the life of the sightless. Miss Heffernan is a University of Wisconsin student from Evanston, Ill. The play's producer is Karl Schmidt, Massillon, O.

"Footsteps" will be broadcast at 4 p. m. Tuesday on both stations and at 9 p. m. Friday by WHA-FM. The cast will consist of Cook Eddy, Madison; Franklin Cook, La Crosse; Phyllis Averill, Superior; Cliff Owen, West Allis; Ruth Klein, Cleveland, O.; 10:45 a. m. today in the First Methodist church.

ORGAN MUSIC: Mrs. Paul M. Fulcher will play these selections in "Organ Meditations" at 8 and 10:45 a. m. today in the First Methodist church: "Adagio in C Minor," Bach; "Larghetto," Wesley; "Largo" from "Third Violin Sonata," Handel; "Toccata," d'Evry.

AIR COLLEGE: A series of talks on comparative government by Prof. John Lipson will be broadcast at 11 a. m. Monday through Fridays on WHA, beginning this week. Lipson, visiting professor at the University of Wisconsin, is a former New Zealand and radio commentator. These talks, presented by the Wisconsin School of the Air, will be transcribed during the university's eight-week summer session.

This will be the School of the Air's 17th year, and it will carry 10 courses a week. Director H. B. McCarty said Saturday. Enrollments for the in-school broadcasts are expected to exceed the 1946-47 record of 361,257 pupils in 19,194 classes.

Two programs which began with the School of the Air back in 1931 will continue; they are Prof. E. B. Gordon's "Journeys in Music Land" and Mrs. Fannie Elve's "Rhythm and Games." Some changes have been made. For example, the science program will be "On Wisconsin," marking the state's 100th anniversary with broadcasts based on Wisconsin's progress.

So the seasons are advancing, with such songs as "Comes the Spring" in the Gordon songbook; word about "Christmas in Shake-rag St." in the manual for "Let's Draw," games for Easter and Valentine's day in the "Rhythm and Games" schedule, and a story about "Jonathan's Thanksgiving" for "Let's Find Out."

STUDIO PLAY: Muriel Lewis, who played the lead in Wisconsin Players production of "Joan of Arms" last season, will appear in the new production of "The Sign of the Cross" at the University of Wisconsin Union theater. The play, by G. B. Stern, will be presented by the Wisconsin Players. It will be broadcast at 8 p. m. Monday on WHA and WLS.

The play, "The Sign of the Cross," is a historical drama about the signing of the Declaration of Independence. It will be presented by the Wisconsin Players. It will be broadcast at 8 p. m. Monday on WHA and WLS.
