SENATOR SOAPER SAYS:

"The pair," says an eastern film review, "are washed ashore on an uninhabited isle." For not seeing that one, the Johnston Office will hate itself.

Tossing a strip teaser into a pool, as male students did at Louisiana State, isn't that old southern chivalry. It isn't even art appreciation.

The hospital patient's day is brightened by movies projected on the ceiling, which sounds even more amusing than watching one's sympathetic visitor eat the fruit he brought.

Then there's tentative amnesia, a condition suffered while wondering how come you're carrying matches that advertise Joe's Gas and Chili Station in Ardmore, Okla.

An actor is given an Oscar for portraying a ham actor. It recalls another famous contest, for making the funniest face, and the surprised winner who didn't know she was playing.

War with Russia is someting about which we prefer not to think. It would be too cerie, meeting our lendlease equipment coming back. (Notis American Newspaper Alliance)

A. In most states bandages are restricted to about six feet in length and one and one-half inches in width for a boxer's fists. The length of the tape is two feet.

Q. How many elections are held in the United States each year? W. R. P.
A. The number varies from year to year. In 1943 there were 137,661 elections in the United States. There were 126,840 elections in 1944 when elections were held on 151 days of the year somewhere in the United States. These were minor elections for somewhere in the United States. These were minor elections for school and special districts, for local government offices and the like.

Q. What is the most difficult lesson for a guide dog for the blind to learn? S. A. S. A. A. According to persons who have trained them, probably the most difficult lesson for guide dogs is learning to stop at the curb before crossing the street.

Q. Are there any statistics showing how frequently persons are convicted for crimes of which they are innocent? T. R. M.

T. R. M.

A. No conclusive figures are available. Prof. Borchard in his book, "Convicting the Innocent," records the cases of 65 persons who were wrongfully accused and convicted of crimes. These cases were scattered all over the country.

Q. Why is questioning by the police referred to as "third degree?" L. L. H.

A. This particular application of the term is believed to have been suggested by the third Masonic degree, which is conferred with considerable ceremony.

Armstrong gives no bidding but says Angus reached the venturesome contract of five spades. The bidding shown is the only way I can picture him getting to that contract. The four no trump bid is Blackwood.

The opening lead of the jack of diamonds is won by South with the ace. Angus feels that the king of hearts is a liability and leads it immediately in order to get rid of it. West wins with the ace and leads the four of diamonds, East's queen forcing out the king.

Then Angus leads a small spade toward dummy's ace and drops West's singleton queen. A small heart is ruffed by declarer, then the nine of diamonds.
