digging.

A. In the early days, water pipes were made of wood. In case of a fire, the firemen dug-down to the pipe and chopped a hole in it to obtain water for the pump. After the fire, the hole was stopped with a wooden. plug. The place where the open-ing had been made was marked for future use, hence the name fire plug. WITH the great success achieved by Cincinnati, Ohio, in their recent midwest regional championships tournament, it would not be surprising if they were to invite the national championships to Cincinnati one of these days. They have not had a na-tional since 1933, yet many of the same people who were leaders in bridge then are still active.

Mrs. Charlton Wallace Jr. of Cincinnati gave me today's hand, and it, is an example of the care she exercises in her play.

When West opened the queen

The next question was, how could she get the ninth trick? If the heart finesse worked, she would not have any trouble, but if West held both the ace of diamonds and king of hearts, she

She correctly won the first spade trick with the king and led as diamond. When West played low she won in dummy with the jack of diamonds and led the king. West won this trick and led back the jack of spades. Again Mrs. Wallace refused to hold up, winning with the ace of spades.

Then she cashed her two good diamonds and played the king of diamonds and played the king of diamonds and played the king of clubs. When West dropped the ten, she knew she was on the way to victory. She led a small club to the ace, West showing out, so Mrs. Wallace led a spade from dummy, throwing West in. He cashed his good spades but then was forced to lead a heart into the ace-queen.

Let's Explore Your Mind

Answer to Question No. 1

No. London Psychologist H. J. Eysenck had Mrs. F—, a famous graphologist, diagnose over 100 neurotics by their hand-writing. She failed completely to identify those diagnosed by psychiatrists as neurotic, but did slightly better on those diag-nosed by scientific tests, Hand, writing, applied to groups, slightly reveals personality.

Answer to Question No 2

No. In the survey described vesterday 40 per/cent of the peopie asked said they would be more ill at ease talking socially to a psychologist than to an ar-chitect, chemist, engineer or economist—while 14 per cent didn't know which would em-barrass them the most. Maybe this is not surprising since one fourth believed psychologists can "read your mind," while one eighth weren't sure. WHEN I RAKED
TH' LAWN ON TH' OTHER SIDE,
I PUT TH' JUNK ON YOUR LAWN NOW I'LL PUT IT BACK

AN' GET THEIR JOB!

UNDERSTAND HOW IT GOT IN SUCH A CONDITION!
