The following programs are compiled from reports provided by the broadcasters. No responsibility assumed for last-minute changes which sometimes are made.

DIAL LITES — TONIGHT

8:30—KFI—Ronald Colman, as "Dr. William Todhunter Hall," president of mythical Ivy College, calls Frederic L. Hovey, president of Purdue University, for one of his long-distance chess moves.

8:30—KNX—If we are to take Bing Crosby seriously tonight we will go along with him on the idea that he will present to his guest Claudette Colbert some canned perfume which he manufactured in Paris. The stuff is called "Crosby No. 1" and is canned in four delicious flavors—" Bewitched, Bewitched, Bewildered and Begorra."

7:30—KFI—The true experiences of Reporter Kenneth C. Adams of the San Francisco Chronicle, in helping to solve a murder that had the police baffled, will be told tonight on "Big Story."

7:30—KHJ—A wealthy easterner's will left his cattle ranch in Arizona to his son. But it turned out to be a "Heritage of Death" as told during the "Cisco Kid" dramatization tonight.

7:30—KECA—More silver dollars to the studio audience as Lew Valentine, "Dr. I. Q." starts his quizzing.

8:30—KHJ—A soldier of fortune and his girl friend become innocently involved in a dangerous affair, when they find an old lady's valuable timepiece at "International Airport."

TELE-TIPS

5:00—KTTV—"Unk and Andy," an exciting, educational children's TV show makes its debut tonight on this channel. The program will be a Monday, Wednesday and Friday feature. The program is chock full of information about animals, their history and the lands they inhabit.

8:00—KECA—After the stunning appearances of such beauties as Gloria Swanson and Rhonda Fleming on Don McNeill's TV Club, it was inevitable that the most gorgeous of them all should pay his (?) respects to the television. And so "Gorgeous George," with the flowing blond curls, will be on the show tonight.

9:30—KTS—"Watch the Birdie" is the next in line for tonight's "Hands of Mystery" show. Here is a story with a photographer whose camera is photographing subjects as they were five years previous. Called on to "shoot" a young couple, he finds some startling results upon developing the film.

10:30—KNBH—Lovely British songstress and vocallye Beryl Davis will appear on her second show titled "Songs by Candlelight." The show will take place in her living room and feature memory songs.
