

Investigation Of Picnic Murder Story Scheduled

Grantland Rice To Give Predictions On Coming Football Season As Guest Of Bill Stern

A Sunday outing attended by six persons, from which only five return, will be investigated by Ellery Queen in "The Adventure of the Picnic Murder," over WABC Sunday at 6:30 p. m. Belief in the innocence of a small town lawyer indicted for murder on circumstantial evidence leads the radio sleuth to look into a case that makes few headlines but almost sends the wrong man to the chair.

"All This and Heaven Too," sung by Perry Como, will be the featured number on the "Beat the Band" program Sunday at 5:30 p. m. over WEA. Elmo Tanner, featured whistler, will do "Mister Meadow Lark," while Ted Weems will lead the band in "That's For Me," and "Get That Moon Out Of Your Eyes."

Grantland Rice, one of America's foremost sports writers, will don the astral robes to peer into the coming gridiron season when he appears as Bill Stern's guest during the Sports Newsreel of the Air Sunday at 8:45 p. m. over WJZ.

Besides interviewing Rice, Stern will present late news from the sporting front and delve into the past for some illuminating, behind-the-scenes anecdotes on former heroes.

"Shall America Feed Europe?" will be the University of Chicago Round Table discussion Sunday at 1:30 p. m. over WEA. Participants will be Sonia Toma ra, assistant foreign editor of the New York Herald-Tribune; Louis Wirth, assistant professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, and Neil H. Jacoby, assistant professor of finance at the University's School of Business, and member of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

VAN WERT, Sept. 8—Christopher S. Clark, 65, of Chicago, who was injured the morning of Aug. 30 in an auto accident one and one-half miles southeast of Willshire, died Friday at a hospital in Chicago.
