Wilbur Evans, baritone, and Josephine Houston, soprano, will present another delightful musical program when "Stars from the Blue" is heard over WJZ on Saturday, from 7 to 7:30 p. m. Joseph Stopak directs the 35-piece orchestra.

Evans will sing "You and the Night and the Music," by Schwartz; and "Danny Deever," by Danrosch. Miss Houston will offer "Love is a Cheat," traditional; "White Christmas," by Berlin. The orchestra will present "Dance of the Buffoons," by Rimsky-Korsakoff; and the ensemble offer a medley from "The Vagabond King," by Friml.

It's Kappa Kappa Gammas versus Phi Delta Theta, on the Frank Crumit-Julia Sanderson "Mr. Adam and Mrs. Eve" quiz broadcast over WABC Saturday at 8 p. m. The Kappa girls are Dr. Mary Crawford, Cornell graduate, now medical director of the Federal Reserve bank of New York; Alice Burrows, University of Colorado, associate editor of Vogue Merchandising Service; and Sarah E. Morris, University of Maryland, secretary to the vice president and general attorney for the Celanese Corporation of America, and president of the New York chapter of Young Business Women. Opposing them as "Mr. Adams" are three Phi Delta Thetas: Brock Pemberton, University of Kansas, one of the sponsors of the Washington, D. C., Stage Door Canteen; Don Wharton, Davidson college, former editor of Scribner's and associate editor of New Yorker, now a feature writer for the New York Post; and William J. Fulton, University of Illinois, of the Chicago Tribune's New York bureau.

Streamlined to keep in musical tempo with the times, the Yankee Doodle Minstrels will be heard in another swift-moving program over WJZ Saturday at 10 p. m., starring George V. Denny, Jr., president of Town Hall, as the guest end man.

Regular end men on the program are Pic and Pat, Clark Dennis and Hi, Lo, Jack and the Dame handle the singing assignments. Guest star will be Les Leiber, virtuoso of the tin flute. Joe Rines and his orchestra provide the musical background.
